

Editorial – March 2017

EDITORIAL

---

Dear Respected Reader

It is my pleasure to be new Editor-in-Chief for the well-established and fast progressing Journal of Contemporary Medical Sciences. Also I wish to thank the previous editor-in-chief (Professor Abbas Bashi) for his support to the journal. This Journal is well indexed in Chemical Abstracts (CAS), Directory of Open Access Journals (DOAJ), EBSCO, EMBASE and Google Scholar with daily more than 500 visitors on the website.

We are inviting all respected researchers of different medical science specialities to publish their works in this Journal or IJPH.

For supporting the researcher & research activity, we have decided to waive the fees of the first paper publish in this Journal or the new Iraqi Journal of Public Health for the Iraqi post graduate students.

We are in Nab'a Al-Hayat Foundation for Medical Sciences and Health Care, keen to establish excellent relationship and collaboration with all Medical Science Research centres worldwide for developing high quality medical science & health care researches.

The Nab'a Al-Hayat foundation's activity was achieved two successful International conference for medical education and basic scientific researches in Iraq last year, and supporting students, in addition to that we designed mobile applications for vaccination to Iraqi children. We have planning to do the new 2nd international medical congress in 13-14-Sept 2017 in Karbala, Iraq.

We are welcoming any Medical research papers for publishing in our Journals with special consideration for postgraduate students in both Journal (JOCMS & IJPH)

Best Regards

Abbas Taher
Editor- in- Chief